

Botley C of E Primary Remembers

To commemorate 100 years since the end of World War One, the children each made a poppy, with different year groups using different materials. The children gathered to hear World War One poetry and diary extracts written by Key Stage Two and to pay their respects. Children had also shared photographs and information about their relatives who had fought in World War One and World War Two.